ANCIENT RUINS? What appears to be an archaeological dig in Roman ruins is actually workmen driving steel piles to bedrock at the 19th Street overpass site. The one-foot diameter, 42-foot long piles are being driven at the highest point of the overpass span where additional support is especially needed. Along the remainder of the elevated roadway, wood piles are being driven. Most of the steel piles are being driven 25 feet below ground level. The othermost piles are being driven at a 16-degree angle to add to the total strength. A concrete foundation is then added over the piles, which are cut off about two feet above the ground. Concrete pillars will be constructed on the foundations to support the roadway.

Postal carriers begin watch for aged, disabled

The Granite City Post Office has instituted the Carrier Alert Program to aid senior citizens as well as persons who have a known illness.

A card must be completed by the resident in order for him or her to be included. It lists only the basic information required. The cards are available at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank or at the Granite City Post Office.

"The information on the card will be kept confidential and on file at the police station to be used in cases of emergency only," Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins said.

"When the card is turned in, you will be given an adhesive sticker which you will place inside your mailbox. These stickers will not be visible to the public.

"This sticker will cause the mail carrier to pay particular attention to any unusual circumstances at your residence.

"If something peculiar is noticed, the carrier will immediately notify the post office or the police station of the possible need for assistance.

"The purpose of the program is to aid and assist someone in need. The information on the card is to be used for no other purpose than to possibly save someone's life."

Postmaster Wilkins concluded, "If anyone has questions regarding the program, feel free to call me at 877-0700 or 877-0701."

Madison school auditing

An audit of the Madison School District's attendance and financial records made this month by state auditors will be turned over to the office of State's Attorney Nicholas Byron for study, it was asserted Friday.

The audit, it was related, was requested by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation on an unverified allegation that attendance records which help determine the district's allotment of state aid funds may not correspond with the actual attendance.

While the department of investigation referred to the matter as a "special audit," Madison School Superintendent John Palcheff said he had assumed the checkup in early June was a regular school audit which had been scheduled by the regional superintendent's office.

Palcheff, who said he has not been made aware of any complaints of errors, told the Press-Record:

"There is no wrongdoing. I was not told anything about the audit and, at this time, I know nothing of any discrepancies in high school records.

Scrap exports worry steel firms, staffs

Buddy W. Davis, director of District 34 of the United Steelworkers of America here, and H. Bruce Nethington, assistant to the vice president, corporate affairs, at Laclede Steel Co., are taking national leadership in a labor-management drive to save jobs threatened by "foreign raves on the American ferrous scrap market." Davis is serving as co-chairman and Nethington is on the public relations committee of the Ferrous Scrap Consumers Coalition (FSCC), which is urging the U.S. Department of Commerce to start monitoring the outflow of scrap iron and steel. Davis lives in Wood River.

In testimony in Washington, Davis said, "We in the Steelworkers union are very much concerned about the future of many thousands of our members working in foundries and steel mills that utilize a high degree of scrap in their steelmaking facilities."

He said that, nationally, 68,000 steelworkers are employed in foundries, in addition to many other thousands in steelmaking companies. All told, about 300,000 workers and 900 companies are affected, he testified.

"In this metropolitan area, companies most seriously impacted include Laclede Steel, with 3,100 employees, and foundry and casting firms such as American Steel Foundries, Scullin Steel and St. Louis Steel Castings," Nethington said.

While affected to some extent, Granite City Steel is said to be less directly involved in the problem because it produces much of its raw metal from ore in its own blast furnaces.

Davis and Nethington stressed that the scrap problem is growing more serious every year because of increasing use of the electric furnace process.

"Companies both in the United States and around the world are building plants with efficient and comparatively low-cost electric furnaces, which melt

Girl, 8, is badly beaten

An 8-year-old girl was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 8 p.m. Thursday for observation of possible head injuries after she allegedly was beaten by a relative.

A warrant was being sought Friday under the statute covering cruelty to children. But no warrant had been issued as of this morning, since the process of interviewing witnesses had not been completed.

There were indications that felony prosecution is being considered. Police became involved in the case when a man and woman asked to talk to an officer at the West Granite Fire Station and told him of a child being beaten at a residence.

They said the youngster had been beaten on previous occasions and suggested the officer go to the house immediately.

As the officer approached the dwelling, he reported hearing a child

Summer allergies—nothing to sneeze at

By CATHERINE MAUCK
Madison County Home Economics Adviser

If a whiff of the great outdoors brings on sneezes and sniffles, many people probably blame them on a summer cold or the roses and other flowers gracing their garden.

However, the stuffy noses, sneezes and red, itchy and watery eyes frequently seen at this time of year more often are the result of allergies caused by pollen in the air.

The pollen produced by flowering plants such as roses, asters, pansies and others is generally too heavy to be carried by the wind, so usually it is not responsible for allergies.

The more likely culprit is the lightweight pollen produced by certain trees, grasses and non-cultivated plants, such as ragweed.

The symptoms of airborne

Home sales slump worse than in '70s

The decline in existing home sales intensified in May, with preliminary estimates indicating that transactions slipped by 7.4 percent from April, Dr. Jack Carlson, executive vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Realtors, said Friday.

"Existing home sales on a seasonally adjusted annual basis were at 2,240,000 units in May," he said, "dropping for the eighth consecutive month and reaching the lowest level in more than five years."

Based on the May estimates, resale activity in May fell 17.6 percent in the Northeast, 11.9 percent in the South and 7.6 percent in the North Central region. The West, however, recorded a 12.2 percent increase.

"The current resale situation is extremely severe," he said. "The extent can best be gauged by comparing the last two periods of reductions in sales transactions. The current drop is twice as severe as either the 1969-70 or the 1973-74 recessions."

He added that resales have dropped 45 percent since their cyclical peak of 4,060,000 units in November 1978. This compares with a 20 percent decline in the previous two recessions.

The drop-off in resale activity over the past eight months has been widespread, with housing markets in all regions of the nation experiencing the effect of high mortgage interest rates and the tight monetary policies of the administration, he said.

"There are signs of a slight improvement in existing home sales in June," Carlson said, "and the market can be expected to improve further throughout the remainder of 1980 before reaching a new record level in 1982."

He added, however, that mortgage interest rates are expected to remain around 12 or 13 percent nationally during the remainder of the year. These rates can be expected to increase again in 1981 as the economy recovers.

Inflation also can be expected to accelerate, he said, as the federal government continues to stimulate the economy with spending and then fights inflation with tight credit policies.

The National Association of Realtors represents more than 725,000 individuals involved in all phases of the real estate industry.

Hearings to aid small businesses

Plans for a state-wide series of open hearings to explore the problems and needs of small business in Illinois were announced Friday by John W. Castle, director of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

"As the national recession deepens," Castle said, "small business owners are among the first to feel the effects. They're hit hardest by the declining sales of a business slump."

"The purpose of these regional conferences will be to get a first-hand report on the specific problems that face the men and women who own or operate small businesses. From the facts we gather, we should be able to construct a meaningful agenda for action."

The meetings will take place in late August and in September, and the DCCA staff is now selecting five sites for them.

Schools urged to stress fundamentals, humanities

Avery Schermer and other Illinois community college trustees heard educator, author and lecturer Arthur Cohen warn that the nation's community colleges are in danger of becoming "just another arm of the welfare system."

Schermer, of Granite City, Martha Potter, BAC student representative to the board, and Ruthe Kombrink represented Belleville Area College at the annual Illinois Community College Trustees Association conference in Springfield.

Cohen, keynote speaker for the conference, addressed trustees, college presidents and administrators gathered to honor outstanding community college graduates.

The speaker emphasized that decreasing numbers of students will create "vigorous competition" to attract the 18-year-old high school graduate to the nation's colleges.

Noting that this competition has already convinced some states to change their comprehensive community college systems to vocational-technical and remedial institutions, Cohen urged Illinois trustees to maintain the comprehensive nature of their system.

He called the Illinois system "one of the top five in the nation," but said that the trend toward students taking only one or two courses at a time puts the system in danger of not maintaining institutional legitimacy.

Cohen, director of ERIC (Educational Resource Information Center), also is an editor for the Jossey-Bass Publishing Company's New Directions series, and an instructor at the University of California.

He was critical of what has happened in secondary (high school) education throughout the nation, and said that community colleges are in jeopardy of recreating history.

He said that from 1910 to 1960, the nation had a strong secondary school system, but that in the last 20 years there has been a 30 percent decline in required courses, plus a 15 percent decline in the number of hours a student is required to attend the secondary school.

"These facts," he said, "should be matched with the steady decline in national test scores."

"Graduating high school students don't know how to read. They don't know how to write. And they don't know how to compute well enough to hold down a job."

"Why can't we put these 'together?' It doesn't take an 'old mossa' like me to see the connection."

In observing the increasing remedial and developmental function of the community colleges, Cohensaid, "If remedial and compensatory education is done well, it will cost."

"It will cost a lot more than we are now spending. Will the public pay—one more time—for what the students didn't learn the first time?"

Cohen urged Illinois trustees to continue to emphasize academics in their curriculum.

"Humanities in the community colleges," he said, "are declining rapidly. They are tied to the kite-tail of transfer programs. And since only four percent of community college students transfer to four-year colleges, they are being allowed to die."

"The focus today is on obtaining job skills in college."

He quoted one girl in a college graduating class as saying, "Why would anybody go to college just to learn?"

Cohen recommended the establishment of lay advisory committees, similar to those for vocational-technical programs, in the area of humanities.

And, he said, career and compensatory programs should include humanities.

"If you are going to be a school, then act like a school," Cohen admonished.

He stressed the following points in his speech:

(1) "If you expect people to learn they must study."

(2) "People must study longer to learn more."

(3) "Boards of trustees must take the responsibility for required courses."

(4) "Students must have a commitment on their part."

(5) "The segregation of remedial students from other students is self-defeating."

(6) "Students should be obliged to play by the rules (e.g., they should not be allowed to drop a course they are failing up to the last day, without penalty)."

(7) "No one should be barred from obtaining whatever education will benefit him or her."

(8) "Every program should operate with measurable objectives."

Criticizing a trend to "put people into the community college system as a substitute for employment," Cohen said that such action is not worthwhile.

"If people are put into the colleges without a commitment to learn, we are wasting their time and ours."

"We are a school, not a place to keep people off the streets."

"Illinois community colleges are in good shape in comparison to other colleges. But I encourage trustees to be diligent in maintaining the integrity of the system."

GC school takes top math honors

Four eighth-grade pupils from St. Elizabeth Parochial School captured regional honors in the Illinois Mathematics League contest, sponsored annually for various grade levels.

A total of 15 eighth-grade students from the Granite City school took part in the contest.

Of the top 20 schools entered in the state of Illinois, St. Elizabeth ranked third, with a team score of 174.

Among the top 25 students entered in the state, Dennis Wilmsmeyer of St. Elizabeth School ranked sixth, with a score of 38 out of a possible 40.

Only Edwardsville Junior High School and St. Elizabeth participated in the contest from Madison County.

If fewer than 10 schools take part from a given county, then counties are grouped to form a 10-school group, it was explained.

Madison County was joined by schools in Bond, Clinton, Monroe, Montgomery, Randolph and Washington counties to create a regional area for the contest.

In the region, St. Elizabeth School ranked first with a team score of 174 and its pupils scored the highest points.

The Wilmsmeyer youth ranked first and three students, Christine DeRuntz, Christine Evanoff and Kathy Juhasz, tied for second place.

St. Elizabeth School received a plaque as the regional winner and plaques will be awarded to the individual students.

Dennis Wilmsmeyer and Christine DeRuntz were the 1980 winners of the American Legion Award from St. Elizabeth School.

Woman choked, beaten by man

A man who was beating and choking a Granite City woman fled at 7:55 a.m.

Friday when the driver of a passing car got out of his vehicle to assist the woman, police reported.

Vickie Parrott, 19, of 2436 Ohio Ave., told officers that she was returning to her home from a nearby store and was at 20th Street and the railroad tracks when a man in a blue van pulled alongside her and asked if she "would like to go to a party."

When she told him "no," the man alighted and began choking her, then struck her about the face and head.

A man in a passing car stopped and got out of his car to assist her, and her attacker jumped in his van and drove away, she told police.

The man who helped her drove her to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for bruises.

Police did not identify the man who aided her.

Her assailant was identified as about 19 or 20 years old, with light brown hair and wearing glasses, blue jeans and a blue-checked shirt. He was about six feet

Singler honored

Virgil H. Singler of Granite City was awarded the highest degree of the Loyal Order of Moose, the Pilgrim Degree, in mid-June.

The award was presented during a ceremony held in Mooseheart, a community established and supported by the fraternity, for needy children.

Singler, a member of Moose Lodge 272 here, was awarded the Pilgrim Degree of Merit for "outstanding service and continued devotion to the humanitarian programs of the fraternity."

Singler was one of 200 Moose members from the United States, Canada and Great Britain to receive the award. Only one of every 5,000 Moose members receives the degree each year.

Investiture of the Pilgrim class, sponsored by Herbert W. Heilman, director general of the Loyal Order of Moose, was held in the House of God located on the Mooseheart campus. The ceremony was presided over by Pilgrim Governor Paul P. Schmitz.

Scrap exports

down and refine scrap iron and steel to make new steel.

"Despite this trend," Davis said, "our nation is permitting unlimited export of scrap—something that has become as much a raw material as a barrel of oil or other scarce natural resources."

"These are not leftovers to be gotten rid of any old way. Other nations recognize scrap as a raw material and restrict exports to meet their own needs."

"Early this year, scrap prices went haywire and exports shot up to record levels. Because of the recession, prices have eased. But the problem remains because of the long-term trend."

"If American workers and American companies are going to have a chance to compete fairly, our government at the very least needs to have some facts.

"That is all we are asking the department of Commerce to do—monitor exports."

"Let's find out how much of this important raw material is going out of the country, and what it does to prices and jobs here at home."

"Anyone who wants to help may write the secretary of Commerce in Washington and urge monitoring."

"Besides the raw metal in scrap iron and steel itself, every ton that is exported represents the equivalent of exporting three barrels of oil. That is how much energy it takes to produce the same amount of metal from ore," Davis concluded.

Shooting victim dies

James English Jr., 33, of 2418 E. 29th St., who was shot during an exchange of gunfire in the Bastille Lounge in Madison Thursday, June 12, died at 9:40 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Madison Police Chief Donald Bridick said information about the shooting incident will be taken to the Madison County state's attorney's office this week to determine what charges may be filed against the man suspected of having shot Mr. English.

The suspect, who suffered a glancing wound to his forehead from a bullet, has recuperated and is to begin serving a sentence today in the Madison County Jail on a separate battery conviction, authorities said.

The Bastille was ordered closed after the shooting, but reopened Friday, Bridick said. It will be up to Casper Nghobossian, city attorney for Madison, to set a date for a hearing on the lounge's liquor license, he added.

Mr. English was to be buried following funeral services at 11 a.m. today. Additional details may be found in today's obituary column.

Attorneys discuss suit in loss of levee dirt

Attorneys of the Metro-East Sanitary District reported Friday they are studying data in the removal of a large quantity of dirt from the Cahokia Canal levee south of Granite City, allegedly by the SCA Services, Inc. for use as cover at a landfill.

John Sprague, a district attorney, said a suit may be filed unless a satisfactory settlement can be reached. Engineers have set actual damages at $657,000, but Sprague said punitive damages also will be sought.

The removal of the dirt which completely leveled some sections of the Cahokia Canal levee has been discussed in a series of meetings with representatives of SCA Services who have offered to restore the levee with their own equipment and workmen.

Issue warrants for 2 GC men

In response to warrants being issued against them, Edwin D. Meyer, 33, of 1751 Chestnut St., and Mark D. Edwards, 25, of 1745 Walnut St., reported to the Granite City police station Thursday and were placed under arrest.

Both men were charged with battery and disorderly conduct, arising from an incident occurring June 6 at the home of a Granite City woman.

Meyer and Edwards appeared before a judge Thursday and each was released on payment of a $200 cash bond and a $3,000 recognizance bond.

Lazerson, 2 others still in running

Three finalists for the position of president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were announced Thursday afternoon by the Presidential Search Committee.

W. Deane Wiley, professor in the department of educational administration and chairman of the committee, said the finalists, listed in alphabetical order, are:

John A. Dillon Jr., coordinator for energy and environmental affairs and professor of physics and systems science at the University of Louisville.

Gordon I. Goewey, executive vice-president and provost of Trenton State College, Trenton, N.J.; and Earl Lazerson, acting president of SIUE.

Wiley said the committee has delivered its recommendations to Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw and thus has completed its work. The three recommended candidates were selected from a group of four semifinalists who had been brought to the campus for visits and interviews.

The semifinalists whose name was dropped from the final list is Thomas E. Jordan, associate vice-chancellor for academic affairs and dean of the Graduate School at the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

Dr. Shaw has announced that he plans to visit the final three candidates at their home campuses. He hopes to recommend his choice for the presidency to the SIU Board of Trustees when the board meets July 10 on the local campus.

The four semifinalists were picked from a group of eight candidates who were invited to Lambert Airport for interviews during April and May. The search had been launched in mid-December, and more than 125 persons applied or were nominated for the position.

Lazerson, formerly vice president and provost at SIUE, is serving as acting president until the permanent appointment is made. He was named to the position in September when Dr. Shaw, SIUE president, became chancellor of the SIU system.

Irrigating gardens recommended here

By CHRIS DOLL

Garden vegetables need an inch of rain a week during the summer months to maintain high quality and yields.

Rain is the best source of water, but the plant isn't particular as to the source when it starts getting dry. Thus, if water is available, irrigate to keep the plants growing.

An inch of water doesn't sound like much, but for an acre it amounts to 27,154 gallons.

For a garden of 1,000 square feet it is 627 gallons, or about 0.6 gallon per square foot of surface.

This inch of water will moisten dry loam soils about six inches deep. It will penetrate less in clay soils and more in sandy soils.

Sandy soils require more frequent waterings because they have less water holding capacity.

The inch of water is better applied as a single application rather than a little each day. Frequent light sprinklings don't get the water down to the plant's root zone.

The water can be applied by a hose, sprinkler, perforated hoses or by flooding. Uniform application down the row or over the garden is essential for best results.

Watering can be done any time during the day, but least disease problems might be avoided by watering early enough in the day so that the plants dry before the dew appears in the evening.

INSECTS GET FIRST

TASTE OF VEGETABLE

Many gardeners are learning that insects have first chance at their crops.

Beans, potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, melons, cabbage and other crops are showing signs of insect feeding. A watchful eye is needed to prevent serious damage.

As in any battle, it is best to know who or what you are fighting. Many growers claim to be fighting "bugs"

when, in reality, they have insect problems.

It is only a technicality, but a true "bug" is an insect in the Hemiptera order and one that sucks juice from plant or animal.

Not all juice suckers are

"bugs," but all "bugs" are juice suckers.

It is more important to know the identity of the insect and the type of feeding or damage it causes.

The most troublesome insects of this season are bean leaf beetles, cucumber beetles, cutworms, cabbage worms, potato beetles, flea beetles, asparagus beetles, aphids, and squash vine

borers.

Sometimes the same identifies the insect with the crop, but some insects have variable appetites and feed on several vegetables.

Bean leaf beetles have been most obvious in their activity. They are about 1/4-1/2 inch long, green, yellow, tan, or red with two black spots on each wing cover. They drop to the ground when disturbed.

Round holes in bean leaves mean that insects have been chewing. Continued feeding results in a lacy foliage that cannot function efficiently and low yields or plant death result.

Cucumber beetles may be spotted or striped. They are about 1/4-inch long, greenish yellow, but with 12 black spots or 3 black stripes down the back.

They feed on the leaves and stems of all vine crops, but also like corn, asparagus and eggplant. Damage is caused by leaf feeding and by spreading bacterial wilt in cucurbits, a disease that causes vine wilting in 3 or 4 weeks.

Potato beetles are now emerging and they chew on potatoes and tomato leaves.

They are tan and black striped beetles that may grow to be 1/2-inch long and 1/4-inch wide. Their eggs are orange-yellow, and when there are numerous on the underside of the leaves it means more beetles will be forthcoming.

Heavy feeding will defoliate the plants.

Squash vine borer attacks vine crops (summer squash are favorites) by tunneling or boring into the stem or crowns and causes wilting or death of the plant.

When wilting is seen, it is too late for control, so preventive measures must be used.

Sprays or dusts of

malathion or carbaryl

(Sevin) should control these insects.

For the squash vine borer, treatment must be made before egg laying so that young borers are killed before they enter the plant.

For the other pests,

treatment can be delayed

until some feeding is observed, but should be made before serious damage is visible.

When this is used according to directions at

weekly intervals, worm-free

cabbage, broccoli and

cauliflower can be grown.

Other insect pests will be emerging during the summer

to contest you for your crops. By making periodic inspections for insect activity, identifying them, and

treating accordingly, you should be able to avoid losing

your crop to insects or

"bugs."

Cabbage-family crops are eaten by imported cabbage worm, cabbage looper, and diamond-back moth. These were very difficult to control until the development of Bacillus Thuringiensis, a biological control agent now

sold as Thuricide, Dipel,

Biotrol or Biological Worm

Spray.

When this is used according to directions at

weekly intervals, worm-free

cabbage, broccoli and

cauliflower can be grown.

Other insect pests will be

emerging during the summer

to contest you for your crops. By making periodic

inspections for insect activity, identifying them, and

treating accordingly, you

should be able to avoid losing

your crop to insects or

"bugs."

Probe tavern shooting Births

Granite City police were investigating today the shooting Saturday night of John Ballentine, 37, of 1401 Iowa St., at the 18th Street Lounge, 1800 State St.

Ballentine was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where police were told he suffered a bullet wound in his right foot and a possible graze wound on the right shin.

Authorities said Ballentine told them that he "heard a noise" and felt pain in his right foot, following an incident with a man who had taken his seat at the bar.

Don Caughron, a friend of Ballentine who was with him at the bar, said Ballentine had left his seat at the bar, police reported. They quoted Caughron as saying that a man came in while Ballentine's beer and took his seat. Later, it was reported, Ballentine returned and told the man it was his seat. The man refused to move.

Authorities said Caughron told them Ballentine had asked him to get him a package of cigarettes and Caughron was at the cigarette machine and did not see the shooting. Caughron took Ballentine to the hospital.

Police interviewed Ballentine at the hospital, where they also talked with Caughron, and then returned to the lounge where they found a man fitting the description given them by Caughron of the man who had taken Ballentine's seat at the bar.

The man denied he had anything to do with the incident and told officers they could search him if they believed he was carrying a gun.

Police ordered the lounge closed until today.

The rear of the display case was open, but store personnel had been near the register most of the time, employees told police.

Births recorded at St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

8 interviewed for school job

Eight applicants for the top school business administrative position were interviewed by the Granite City Board of Education on Thursday evening.

A selection is expected to be made by the board tomorrow night, allowing the individual hired to spend most of July working with Tully Heubner, the departing director of business affairs. July tasks will include completing work on the tentative 1980-81 school district budget.

The eight who met separately with the school board had been screened to that number from an original group of 15 job applicants.

Of the eight, three currently are employed in the Granite City district. School officials commented that those being considered include many highly qualified individuals.

Heubner has accepted a similar position with a community college.

Lawn furniture taken from five homes here

Lawn and patio furniture was stolen from five Granite City residences and reported Thursday to police. Four of the thefts occurred in one neighborhood.

Lester Spray, 2335 Lincoln Ave., said three chaise lounges, two rocking chairs, seven lawn chairs, two lawn tables and a hammock, valued in excess of $164, were stolen from the rear yard at his home. Most of the stolen items were made of aluminum with green and white vinyl webbing.

Ben Miller, 2453 Hodges Ave., reported at 7:45 p.m. Thursday that two lawn chairs made of green and white canvas, worth $17, were stolen from his yard. It was the second theft of its kind in two weeks, the owner said.

Two lawn chairs, orange and white and green and white, valued at $12, were taken from the yard at the home of Carol Coadley, 2508 Lincoln Ave., she reported at 1 p.m. Thursday.

About the same time, Vivian Allen, 2504 Lincoln Ave., reported the theft of a lawn chair with wooden sides from her home.

Kenneth Andrews, 1545 Garfield Ave., reported the theft of five pieces of lawn furniture from his front porch at 8:40 p.m. Thursday. The items included a lounge chair and two folding aluminum chairs.

A person residing near one of the victims reported seeing two men in a woman loading a number of lawn chairs into a vehicle at the rear of a house Thursday.

The back of the vehicle was so stuffed with chairs, they had to tie it down, the person told police.

Madison plans school desegregation group

Madison School Board President Sam Dymas plans to appoint a committee of three board members to work on the board to further work on the District 12 desegregation plan.

The appointments have not yet been made as the Madison board is waiting for official word from the Illinois State Superintendent to rule on the Madison request for an extension of time (one year) to enact a final desegregation plan for elementary children.

Letters are being sent to the heads of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Blair School and Harris School Parents Clubs asking them to appoint no less than two, nor more than four, members of each group, who are residents of the Madison School District 12, to work with the board on the desegregation plan.

The entire board has expressed a desire for citizen input into the plan. The board has been expressed over the future of Blair Elementary School and it was rumored that the board was to close Blair.

Attending Blair are children from Kindergarten through third grade. Concern has been expressed that the board is almost certain to receive the extension, in view of the recent opening of the New Middle School, which figures greatly in the desegregation of the district.

Extensions have been granted on a year by year basis since 1976, due to the construction of the new school.

Change in day camp schedule; free on July 2

The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced a change in its summer day camp schedule. Effective immediately, all camp sessions will be open to campers 6 to 11 years old.

Previously, campers 6 through 8, and those 9 through 11, met in alternate weeks.

The "Y" camp director has said that the staff will continue to address the needs of each age level by separating the campers accordingly.

The fee for camp will remain $15 for "Y" members and $20 for non-members per weekly session. Scholarships are available for those in need of financial assistance, according to Lucy Tueth, 878-7200.

YMCA also has announced that boys and girls ages 6 to 11 may attend a free day at camp on Wednesday, July 2. On this special day, the "Y" will provide bus service from the following locations: St. Elizabeth School playground, St. Margaret Mary School playground, Nameoki School playground, and the YMCA.

For a schedule on the pickup and return times, Quad-Cityans may call the YMCA. The bus will take the campers to the "Y" campsite at the Granite City Army Installation, where campers can enjoy swimming, crafts, sports and games. All campers are to bring their own lunch, and the "Y" will provide a cold drink.

Enrollment is limited and registration is on a first come, first serve basis. Campers must be registered by Friday, June 27.

2 hurt today

Sally Anderson, 26, of 2234 Grand Ave., suffered a large cut to the back of her head during a disturbance in the back yard of a home in the 2200 block of Lee Avenue at 2:20 a.m. today.

She alleged someone struck her with a bat or a brick, but declined to sign a complaint. Witnesses named a young man as her assailant, and police saw him driving a pickup truck in the alley nearby and stopped him. He was taken into custody, but later was released without charges being filed.

A passenger in his truck said he had been stabbed with a pair of scissors during the disturbance, but he did not require immediate medical attention.

Sally Anderson went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where sutures were applied to close the cut to her head. She was released after treatment.

Street resurfacing to begin next week

A $369,000 program to resurface many Granite City streets will get underway one week from today, Ed Schulte, city traffic engineer, said this morning.

A crew from MacIair Asphalt will begin the prime coat on some Granite City streets June 30, as it completes street resurfacing work now underway in Pontoon Beach.

Schulte warned that the prime coat is sticky and messy and the city frequently receives complaints when it is applied, but the crews will return to streets which have been prime coated and will apply asphalt within a short period of time.

Residents interested in which streets are to be asphalted or dates on which streets will be done may contact the city engineering department at 452-8217 for details, he added.

Madison man drowns

Charles McQuay Jr., 21, a Madison resident for most of his life, drowned Saturday afternoon in Silver Lake at Highland where he had gone wading while on a picnic with friends.

Authorities said Mr. McQuay stepped into a deep hole. He was unable to swim. The victim's friends attempted to find the body in the water but police were called about 3:15 p.m.

The body was recovered by Highland firemen a short time later and taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Highland where he was pronounced dead at 4:15 p.m.

Mr. McQuay was employed at Granite City Steel. Further details are given in today's obituary column.

Ex-Pontiac inmates are costly to state

By JOAN MURARO
SPRINGFIELD It is costing the state of Illinois $18,500 a year each to keep at least seven former Pontiac inmates in the federal detention center in Chicago.

A situation which grew out of the Pontiac riot nearly two years ago. Meanwhile, state corrections officials are still left dangling while awaiting a decision by a Chicago judge on whether or not the inmates can be sent to other federal prisons around the country, to reduce their gang connections and ties in Illinois.

The judge, U.S. District Judge John Powers Crowley, has had the decision under advisement since February of 1979. The department has no idea when the judge will finally announce his decision, according to Mike Lane, assistant director for the adult division in the Corrections Department.

The Pontiac riot, in July of 1978, did more than $9 million damage at the prison and resulted in the deaths of three guards. On the heels of the uprising, the department sought to transfer a number of inmates from Pontiac to the federal prison system, a transfer which is permitted under the U.S. Code. However, the Federal Bureau of Prisons declined to take the inmates because of troubles it was having in its own system at that time, at least some of it resulting from other state troublemakers the federal agency had agreed to accept.

The number of Illinois inmates involved was later reduced, and the federal authorities agreed to take 10, only one of whom was charged with being involved directly in the riot. The others were gang leaders whose influence over their followers the Illinois prison officials were trying to weaken.

"The intention," Lane said, "was to have them (the nine gang leaders) scattered all over the country within seven days. Instead the inmates went to court claiming it would violate their rights to transfer them, the judge took it under advisement and we're still waiting for his decision."

Lane called the situation "inexcusable." Meanwhile, three of the inmates have been released, having served the necessary time or being granted parole, he said, to only seven remain in the federal center.

In addition, four inmates have been removed from Pontiac to other agencies' custody for their own protection, Lane said, after it was decided they could not, for their own safety, remain at Pontiac.

Seventeen inmates were indicted for murder as the result of the deaths during the riot, and 14 others were charged with offenses relating to the riot but not to the deaths. Of these, two have been tried and acquitted, five were convicted after trial, and seven more are scheduled for trial "soon," Lane said.

Blessing of fleet Sunday afternoon

Hundreds of boats of all shapes and sizes will arrive, and thousands of people will be on hand Sunday to witness a traditional ceremony considered to be the biggest marine event on the Mississippi River.

The 24th annual blessing of the fleet at Our Lady of the Rivers Shrine in Portage des Sioux will officially launch the safe boating season on Sunday, June 29. The event is sponsored by the Blessing of the Fleet organization and is patrolled by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

From all indications, the gasoline crunch has not deterred boating enthusiasts, and it is expected that several hundred boats will pass by the Shrine at 3 p.m. to be blessed by the "river priest," the Rev. Edward B. Schlattmann, who originated the ceremony.

Rev. Schlattmann comments, "Blessing of fishing fleets has been conducted for centuries. However, blessing of pleasure crafts originated with our event here in Portage. These days, there are thousands of pleasure boats on the river, and it is our purpose to bless these boats."

In recent years, blessing of pleasure boats has been started in various areas of the United States, based on the event held annually at Our Lady of the Rivers.

Although the colorful spectacle has a religious connotation, there almost always is a carnival atmosphere that day, as boaters decorate their boats to win plaques in a decorating contest, and spectators line the shores of Missouri and Illinois.

Portage Area Jaycees will again sponsor their 10th Fest on the picnic grounds, near St. Francis Hall in Portage that day. It will feature arts, crafts, entertainment and varied food and cool drinks.

For visitors who plan to attend for the first time, Portage des Sioux is located on Route H (off Highway 94) about 20 miles northeast of St. Charles and about nine miles west of West Alton, Mo.

According to statistics, this metropolitan area has more boats concentrated inland per square mile than any place in the United States.

The boat parade, which is open to everyone, will be made up of two sections, and all boaters are invited to join in at the end of either section.

Section One will leave the Yacht Club of St. Louis at 1:30 p.m. and proceed downstream toward the Shrine.

Section Two will depart from Harbor Point Yacht Harbor at 1:30 p.m., proceed upstream along the Illinois shore and fall in behind Section One at a converging point in the Slim and Portage Island area, near River Mile 215.

Each section will be led by a Blessing of the Fleet organization boat with a "follow me" sign.

The parade will proceed downstream toward the Shrine in single file order and pass the Shrine at 3 p.m.

Boaters located between the starting points and the converging area can join in either section as it passes their area. Anchoring will not be allowed in the Shrine area.

Boaters are being encouraged to decorate their boats, and separate prizes will be awarded for the best decorated houseboat, cruiser, runabout, sailboat and U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary boat.

Cooperating in the event will be Alton and St. Charles volunteer rescue squads and various official water patrol groups.

The blessing ceremony will mark the 29th anniversary of a calamitous flood that swelled the Missouri River in 1951. The flood spread across the lowlands to Portage des Sioux.

Rev. Schlattmann, than pastor of St. Francis Church gathered the parishioners to pray that the waters would recede. When they did, the village had suffered only minimal damage and no deaths.

He then began the concerted effort to express thanksgiving. With the help of the townspeople, the members of Our Lady of the Rivers, Inc., and many others, a unique statue of Mary was erected.

It has received international recognition and the Corps of Engineers has designated it as an aid to navigation marked on all charts.

Man charged by neighbors

Thomas E. Ladd, 36, of 2625 (rear) Lincoln Ave., was charged with battery and disorderly conduct, following an incident at 3:50 p.m. Thursday, near his home.

Police said Ladd accused two neighbors, Donna Ryan and Curtis Lewis, both of the 2600 block of Lincoln, of trying to have him moved from his dwelling.

Ladd allegedly was abusive to the woman, calling her names, and grabbed Miss Ryan by the arms, pushing her to the kitchen floor, police said.

Ladd allegedly threatened to beat Lewis, at which point police were called.

GOLF CLUBS STOLEN

Richard Kismar, 3221 Arnold Ave., reported at 8:15 a.m. Friday the theft of a golf bag, golf clubs, shoes and other golf equipment valued at a total of $557. He told police he had cleaned the trunk of his car and had placed the items from the trunk by a fence. He said he left for a while and when he returned the items were gone.

No ERA referendum

Two days after failing to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment, the Illinois House voted 82-85 Friday against putting the issue on a non-binding statewide ballot.

Meanwhile, Stop-ERA, led by Phyllis Schlafly of Alton, said it has spent $75,628 this year, including a $1,000 campaign contribution to Rep. Everett Steele, R-Glen Carbon, and $500 each to Sen. Sam Vadala, D-Edwardsville, and Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City.

Steele, a consistent opponent of the proposal, voted against ratification in the 1971 vote that fell five short of the three-fifths margin required. Voting for the ERA were Rep. Wolf and Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton.

Rep. Giddy Dyer, R-Hinsdale, ERA House co-sponsor, said Thursday that pro-ERA forces will run independent candidates this fall against some of the legislators who voted against the women's rights amendment Wednesday.

four wavering legislators who wanted to cast the crucial and prominent 107th vote. "We would have had it if there hadn't been so many prima donnas who weren't content to be the 103rd or 104th vote."

"Rep. Jane Barnes and Rep. William Casey looked me in the eye and said they would vote for it, and then went back on their word," she alleged.

An ERA opponent, Rep. Gale Schlatter, D-London Mills, said late last week he was offered $15,000 or "whatever it takes" to vote for ERA on May 14. He accused the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement of whitewashing an investigation into the matter. Dan Webb, state law enforcement director, confirmed Schlatter had alleged in May that he was offered a bribe. But Webb said there wasn't enough evidence to prosecute.

Dear Consumer

Please Don't Pass the Salt!

By Esther Peterson

If you are superstitious and you spill salt on the table, the remedy is easy — throw some over your left shoulder and forget it. The salt Americans are spilling into their digestive tracts, however, isn't so easy to remedy, and it is a big factor in one of our most serious public health problems.

The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute estimates that 35 million Americans have high blood pressure, or hypertension, and another 25 million are borderline hypertensives — people very likely to develop the disease. High sodium intake, primarily through dietary salt (chemically known as sodium chloride which is about 40 percent sodium), is a major risk factor in hypertension. Reducing salt intake is extremely important for people who have the disease.

It is virtually impossible for consumers to know how much sodium is in the processed foods they eat, unless they are willing to pay extra for salt-free foods. Even where food labels do list ingredients, consumers can't tell the amount of salt unless the packer has elected to use the voluntary nutrition labeling format in which sodium content is declared.

The National Academy of Sciences estimates that a safe and adequate daily dietary sodium intake is between 1.1 and 3.3 grams (g). Some experts feel the requirement is much lower. In either case, the sodium content of many common processed foods is so high that 6 to 18 g per day is average consumption.

A five-ounce glass of tomato juice (containing 60 to 100 milligrams (mg) of sodium), for example, could equal nearly one-sixth of the maximum estimated safe intake of sodium, whereas a five-ounce glass of orange juice contains only a trace of sodium.

A high-salt food, have 150 to 200 mg of sodium per ounce.

Nutrition and Your Health (Dietary Guidelines for Americans), a booklet recently published by the Departments of Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare, warns consumers to avoid too much sodium. But since so many processed foods are high in salt — and more than half the food Americans eat is processed outside the home — here are some suggestions for avoiding too much sodium in your diet. You will be surprised to find how soon your taste buds will adjust to a lower sodium intake:

- Limit obviously salty foods.
- Change ingredients in your recipes to limit salt.
- Cook with little or no salt and add it at the table.
- Cut back on the use of commercially prepared condiments and foods such as catsup, Worcestershire or soy sauce, mustard, relishes and pickles, bouillon cubes, meat tenderizer, monosodium glutamate, gravy mixes, and canned soups.
- Use fresh and frozen vegetables rather than canned ones with high salt content.
- Limit highly salted snack foods such as chips, pretzels and crackers.

Single copies of Nutrition and Your Health are available from the Consumer Information Center, Department 566H, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

By BILL WINTER
One of the most highly regarded of all service agencies, the Salvation Army, has a long history here and currently is observing its 100th anniversary in America.
Fighting sin, suffering and despair, the Army has braved ridicule, contempt and violence during the past century, countering them with faith, dedication and practical, down-to-earth help without regard to creed.
Commissioner Ernest W. Holz, national commander, says, "To its members, the Army is their church—a church which encourages them to participate in religious and social services organized through its Corps Community Centers."
"Today, the Salvation Army's forces number more than 3,600 active officers who are ministers of the gospel. Many are also highly-trained professionals."
"They multiply their influence by directing the services of others—more than 22,000 full-time employees and 400,000 volunteers. Local Advisory Boards, composed of community leaders with broad experience in business, the professions and government, provide valuable assistance."
"Few other voluntary organizations can match us for cost effectiveness. Administration and fund-raising take less than ten cents of each dollar of contributions.

"Whether our Army's 'front line' is attacking addiction, crime, delinquency or loneliness, there are many important battles that citizens' support can help us win."
William Booth, a young Methodist preacher, is the founder. He became deeply troubled by the misery of the urban poor in England and, in 1865, started a Christian mission in a London slum. The organization grew rapidly, adopting a military structure, and in 1878 the Salvation Army name was chosen.
The first Salvationists came to the U. S. in 1880, arriving in New York City. They were Commissioner George Scott Ralston and seven women officers. A Bowery drunk, "Ash-barrel Jimmy" Kemp, became the first American convert.
Now moving into its second hundred years in the U. S., the Salvation Army plans expanded services; increased sources of material support; more cooperation with private and government agencies; and greater professionalism among program administrators and staff members.
"The Salvation Army promises to 'continue to work where the need is greatest, guided by faith in God and love for all people.'"

Nutrition and consumer aides here honored

Recognition has been given to two University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service programs here: the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) and the Consumer and Homemaking Education Program (CHEP).
During the past year, statewide, these programs have helped more than 7,000 Illinois families learn to manage their resources for a better life.
As part of Program Awareness and Program Assistants' Week, a state EFNEP and CHEP conference entitled "Sharing and Caring" was held on the U. of I. Urban-Champaign campus.
Keynote speaker was Charlie Smith, assistant to the president, Children's Television Workshop, New York, N. Y.
Judith Ikenberry, wife of University of Illinois president Stanley Ikenberry, applauded the efforts of para-professionals as she told of her experiences working with the EFNEP program in Pennsylvania.

Conference participants attended workshops conducted by state extension specialists, toured U. of I. facilities and met with university officials.
EFNEP was started in 1969 as part of a national Extension effort to bring food and nutrition information to families with limited incomes.
CHEP was originated as a pilot program in Illinois in 1971 to help low-income families learn to make better use of their resources—time, energy, money, skills and health.
Both programs rely on program assistants who work in their own communities by visiting homemakers in their homes and dealing with family problems on a one-to-one or small-group basis.

The Extension Service provides program assistants with training in nutrition and consumer information as well as in methods of teaching and working with people.
The program assistants, in turn, share what they have learned with homemakers in their neighborhoods.
In Illinois, 150 EFNEP program assistants help more than 21,200 people in 5,081 families. More than 50 CHEP program assistants work with over 2,000 homemakers in five Illinois counties.
"We're helping families improve their housing, health, family communications and ability to manage resources."
"As a result, many of the homemakers we work with develop positive self-concepts," explained one program assistant employed by CHEP for nine years.
The Madison-St. Clair Counties CHEP staff that attended the conference consisted of Vivian Allen, Juanita Merrifield, Lily Wilson, Zaddie Frison, Wilma Hancock, Eva Davenport, Lenora Brown, Pat Shipp, Lenora Crockett, Mary Houston, Mary Hancock, Julia Gines and Helen Davis.

At the awards banquet, program assistants recognized for year of service were Kaolah Adkins, Lenora Brown, Lenora Crockett, Julia Gines, Wilma Hancock, Helen Davis, Mary Houston, Drew Johnson and Gloria Marshall.
Kaolah Adkins, a community worker with CHEP who was unable to attend, also received an AAEHE para-professional award certificate for outstanding accomplishments with a group of pregnant teens in the East St. Louis community.
Three EFNEP program assistants attended from Madison County: Verna McClelland, Alberta Burdett and Phyllis McGinnis. The

GC woman is coordinator for Human Growth

Rita Stucker, 3020 Edgewood, Granite City, has been appointed national letterwriting coordinator for the Human Growth Foundation.

Mrs. Stucker, secretary for the Greater St. Louis Chapter of HGF, is the wife of Gene Stucker and they have four children, Bill, 16, Lisa, 14, Phillip, 8, and Guy, 5.

Human Growth Foundation is a national non-profit foundation dedicated to helping children with growth problems, and their families.

HGF raises funds for research, provides information to the medical community and families of growth retarded children, and encourages the donation of pituitary glands after death for growth hormone extraction.

Human growth hormone injection is the only source of help for such children with deficient growth. But there are not enough glands available to supply all the children diagnosed as growth retarded.

HGF is attempting to make sure that as many as possible of the children who need human growth hormone receive it. Mrs. Stucker's duties as national coordinator will include directing all correspondence to pathologists collecting pituitary glands across the nation.

Wooden-Holt wedding at Nameoki Methodist

Miss Lucy Renae Holt and Jonathan Lee Wooden exchanged vows in a candlelight ceremony on June 7 at Nameoki United Methodist Church before an altar adorned with pink roses in tall vases and ferns in tall brass containers.

The Rev. Gary Carstens officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Leland H. Holt, 2105 Garfield Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wooden, 355 Hillview Drive, Wood River.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal length candlelight qiana gown designed with a sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice lavishly applied with reemboirdered lace and seed pearls.

Her long tapered sleeves were fashioned with delicate lace insets and matching lace defined the Empire waistline.

The slightly full skirt was edged with lace trim and fell softly into a chapel train. She wore a lace Juliet cap embellished with pearls to hold in place a veil of bridal illusion.

Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white cymbidium orchids encircled by white violets intermingled with trailing ivy.

Maid of honor Miss Cheryl Wooden, a sister of the groom, and bridesmaid Mrs. Sherri Griffin, the bride's sister, selected identical lilac qiana floor length dresses.

Their gowns were enhanced with candlelight lace yokes and tiny bows at the waist with daisies appliqued on the steamers. Each held three long stem pink roses.

Serving as candlelighters were Miss Jennie Holt and Bruce Holt, a sister and brother of the bride.

The groom chose his brother, Jeffrey Wooden as best man, Patrick Halliday was groomsman and Timothy Holt, another brother of the bride, and Ron Wooden, the groom's cousin, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Holt chose a street length dress created in pastel blue qiana with an offset yoke and buttons on the shoulder.

The groom's mother was attired in a short pink qiana dress made with a pleated yoke and stand-up collar. They also wore single pink cymbidium orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooden, parents of the groom, entertained members of the wedding party at a swim party at their home following the church rehearsal.

Corral keeps things tight in league race

MARYVILLE — The Corral Liquor Cowboys kept things tight in the race for the Inter-City baseball league lead here Sunday.

The Cowboys split a double header with Maryville, losing the opener 4-3 then bouncing back with an 11-5 nightcap win.

Corral trailed Maryville in the league standings going into the twin bing with a 5-3 season record.

Maryville assured itself of at least holding on to its lead over the Cowboys with a seventh-inning run that won the opening game.

A 3-3 tie faced Corral starting pitcher Greg Faulkner heading into the seventh. But Faulkner walked lead-off batter Dan Semanish to start the inning and Corral's trouble begin. An infield out moved Semanish to second and a single by Brad Hadjuk drove in the game-winner.

Corral had tied the score in the sixth. John Krekovich tripled, and scored on Mike Robertson's infield out.

Maryville broke on top with a two-run first inning. Bob Buehler singled, scoring Jamie Semanish, and Mark Schaake drove in Buehler. Another run in the third set up Maryville's dramatic seventh.

Corral's first two runs came in the first when Mark Clark singled, went to second on an error, stole third, and scored on Robertson's double.

Robertson then scored when Tom Greco singled.

"We didn't hit very well in the first game," Corral coach Ken Crawford said. "We must have been saving it for the second game. Then we hit."

The Cowboys salvaged the second game in powerful style. A five-run third inning was the telling blow. Corral sent eight batters to the plate and pounded out four hits, chasing Maryville starter Steve Mishanic. Krekovich, Greco, Hagenback and Jeff Stamper had the Cowboys' RBI's.

That gave Corral a 6-3 lead after Greco had scored in the seventh. Robertson's single drive in two and a bases-loaded walk to Krekovich scored the other.

"We just made too many mental mistakes," Maryville coach Oberfell said. "Mental mistakes" he do it every time."

The Cowboys' tacked on three extra runs in the seventh. Robertson's single drive in two and a bases-loaded walk to Krekovich scored the other.

"We just made too many mental mistakes," Maryville coach Oberfell said. "Mental mistakes" he do it every time."

Collinsville takes two from Glen Carbon

By RICK WELLS

for the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — It was that kind of a night. Everybody on the Collinsville American Legion baseball team's bench saw Fletcher Field as Post 365 beat Glen Carbon in both ends of a doubleheader, 11-2 and 14-5.

"I was in a row after that disastrous loss at Freeburg," Collinsville coach Fred McCleary said, counting the wins in his head that have put Collinsville ahead in the District 22 North Division race.

Triad High's Dave Lambert went the distance for Collinsville in the first game. He gave up only three hits while striking out 11. Mike Robertson went all seven innings for Glen Carbon and was tagged for 11 hits while striking out three.

Glen Carbon took an early one-run lead when Robertson reached on an error, stole two bases and scored on a passed ball in the first inning.

But Collinsville wasted no time taking over with five runs off just two hits in the bottom of the first inning. Todd Miller led off and was hit by a pitch. Scott Carson followed with a single, and Rich Lambert drew a walk to load the bases. Robertson then hurt himself by walking in two more runs.

With the bases still loaded, Jeff Church singled home two runs and Randy McEwen eventually scored on a grounder to second.

Again in the second inning,

Collinsville came up with the big hits. Carson singled and Rich Lambert doubled.

Heflin singled, Church singled and Keith Thom came through with another single to drive home the third run of the inning.

With a seven-run deficit going into the top of the third inning, Robertson again tried to get something going for Glen Carbon. After Mike Sullivan struck out, Robertson doubled. Larry

Tri-City drops four on the 'lost weekend'

Special to the Press-Record

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — It was a lost weekend for Tri-City Post 113's American Legion baseball team. Partly because of a lack of players and partly because of some shoddy fielding.

Tri-City lost at Evansville, Ind. Sunday 3-0 and 5-4 and lost at Greenville Saturday, 8-6 and 12-4.

Because some of Tri-City's players chose not to make the road trip, Manager Eldon Warfield was forced to start two pitchers (Kevin Cripps and Mark Clark) in the outfield yesterday at Evansville, Ind. in a non-league doubleheader. Warfield was visibly upset.

find themselves on the bench.

In the first game, Tri-City had the hits, it just didn't have the right combination. After spotting Evansville a single run in the first inning and two more in the second, it was an exercise in futility.

Rich Daily took the loss, while Evansville's Jim Waggoner was the winner.

In the second game, Evansville took a 5-0 lead into the fourth inning when Tri-City staged a brief rally.

Tri-City scored a run in the seventh inning, but it wasn't enough. At Greenville Saturday, the proceedings looked more like a circus more than a baseball doubleheader.

In the first game, Greenville was all over the bases and ran away with it partly because of six errors committed by Tri-City's defense. Greenville pitcher John Scharf allowed just two hits. Tom McGowan took the loss.

In the second game, it looked as if Tri-City might be in for a victory. Taking a 3-1 lead into the sixth, things looked bright. But Greenville scored seven runs in the frame and broke it open. A three-run rally by Tri-City in the seventh was wasted.

The four losses dropped Tri-City's record to 8-11. "They were two good teams we played," said Warfield. "But what makes me mad is that we played them fairly close with people playing out of position. I know we could have done better if everybody had showed up."

THE BIGGER THEY ARE. Granite Cityan Fritz Brewer (left) of Mendoza Sporting Goods takes no notice of how out-sized he is by a Northbrook player Saturday during Illinois State Cup play in Alton. Northbrook won, 4-1.

ALTON — There was a break in the game. The soccer ball had sailed over the fence at Alton's Moore Park, and both benches were scrambling around for a replacement.

Finally, the Northbrook side came up with a relatively decent-looking ball. "This one okay?" the coach asked Roger Lavin, the Mendoza coach.

"This late in the game I don't care if you throw out a softball," came the reply. For Mendoza's, the Granite City entrant in the division for 16-year-olds in the Illinois State Cup Boy's Soccer Tournament, time was running out.

It was a scene replayed many times Saturday.

Teams from the Chicago area came south to meet the best of Southwestern Illinois soccer. Representing the south were naturally, the teams from Granite City.

The tournament was divided into three divisions — under 12, under 14 and under 16 age groups. Granite City sent teams in all. Two in the under 12 division, two in the under 14 division, and one in the under 16 division.

On Saturday, Mendoza's was one of the teams that knew early there would be no further advancement. The teams that came out on top of this tournament would earn the right to go to Cincinnati next month to compete for a national title.

Nationals wish for more trees after I-C split

By TOM SCHOCKER

for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Looking around the playing field that is home to both Granite City teams in the Inter-City League, you have to notice one particular structure missing. Diamond One at Wilson Park does not have an outfield fence.

This might be a blessing or a curse depending on the strength of your ball club. For McDonald's Sunday, the trees that surround the outfield came in handy, but the Edwardsville Nationals could have done nicely with a fence as the clubs split a doubleheader. McDonalds took the opener 3-1 while Edwardsville grabbed game two, 2-1.

"We could have lost both games, or we could have won both," said the Nationals' head coach Joe Lucco. "But I tell you one thing, if there would have been a fence out there, we would have won the first game." Lucco had just reason to be disgruntled over the loss. The problem was caused by one man and one man alone — Rusty Buran.

Inning one saw a shot scream off of his bat eluding the outfielder on a fly. Bouncing around between the trees in left center, the ball was finally retrieved by Bob Ford. With out a doubt, a homerun in any other ball park enclosed by a fence. But being slow a foot, Buran was thrown out at third base. This was to be Edwardsville on tally as Buran's double had scored a runner from second base.

McDonalds starting pitcher Jeff Tretter had to breathe yet another sigh of relief in the third. Buran stepped to the plate and blasted another ball. Practically pinned against the trees, Ford hauled it in. From that point Tretter went on to set down seven batters in a row before Edwardsville was given a base runner via an error, in the sixth. "We have been playing pretty fair defense," said McDonalds head coach Ray Harris.

"That's what has been carrying us through these games." It was that defense that saved Tretter in the sixth frame. Getting a runner on first, Edwardsville had none other, than the mighty sultan of sweat — Buran, stepping to the plate. And why should this time at bat be any different from the first two? He could have been attacked by any passing birds. However, Ford once more snagged the deep, deep fly ball.

On the other hand, McDonald's made good use of its speed to score runs. Tretter provided the RBI punch in the first, scoring Pat Hogan, who had singled and stole second. Shutting Edwardsville down from the mound, Tretter closed the books on the Nationals in the fifth.

Following a walk to Dan Schaus, Tretter inflicted the final blow with a blow of his own. Sending a drive between the center and right fielders, Tretter used the endless utility to round the bases for a two run homer and a 3-1 lead. A lead that he made sure would hold by pitching smoke in the final frame. "We just got one timely hit, that's all," said Harris. "I thought we might have a little let down after beating Corral last week."

Harris' let down didn't come until the nightcap when the National's starting pitcher Bob Jones and the Edwardsville defense allowed McDonalds just five hits.

Edwardsville opened the scoring when Wayne Reinbeck, connected on McDonalds starting pitcher Terry Lindsay for the triple scoring Randall Robbins who had reached on an error. Steve Stoltz followed us with a single and Edwardsville had a quick 2-0 lead in the second. The Nationals might have had more runs in the proceedings innings if it were not for McDonalds pulling off two double plays. The run production was to stop for Edwardsville, but McDonalds was long over due as the sixth inning approached. Schaus began a hopeful rally with a single. Jeff Parker then ripped a shot scoring Schaus. He ended up on third with a triple. But all hopes were dashed when Parker tried to score on a high chopping grounder by Ford. A perfect throw and a solid block at the plate stopped him in his tracks which turned out to be the game winning defensive play for the Nationals. "Our infield really looked good," said Lucco, "and so did our pitching. Robbins did an excellent job blocking the plate, though. A good throw from Solte also helped. I'll tell you, it was too evenly played ball games."

Not just for kicks

ALTON — The soccer was not just for kicks here Saturday. A throng of people engulfed the new soccer fields here, located on Illinois Route 111, across from the Alton State Hospital. What they were watching was some of the best youth soccer to be found anywhere. The occasion was the annual Illinois State Junior Cup Tournament. There were three age divisions. Each division had Granite City representatives in it. In fact, the only "non-Chicago" team besides those from Granite City was one from Springfield.

The winners of the tournament will advance to the national tournament next month in Cincinnati. A complete list of results from the tournament will be published in Thursday's Press-Record.

Combs wins race at Tri-City Speedway

By JEFF EAVES
For the Press-Record
Rodney Combs of Loveland, Ohio driving the Slacy-White Camaro passed NDRA point leader Larry Moore of Dayton, Ohio on lap four and lapped the whole field of the 24 cars (except for second, third and fourth) to win the first annual Bopp 100 lap late model stock car race Saturday night at the Tri-City Speedway and collecting $5000.00, for the win.

Combs, who won his sixth 100 lap event of the year, had no trouble in winning the Bopp 100. The race though wasn't for first but for second as pole sitter Kevin Gundaker of St. Louis and Larry Moore, and Larry Phillips of Springfield, Mo., battled for second the whole 100 laps.

Gundaker, who was in third for most of the race, passed Moore on the 80th lap when he got too high in turn three and enabled Moore to take the second spot.

On the 98th lap, Buck

Cadwell of Arnett, Okla., spun in turn three which enabled Kevin Gundaker to move up on Larry Moore for second but unsuccessfully. At this point race leader Rodney Combs was in the process of passing fourth place Larry Phillips but the yellow flag kept him from doing that.

At the finish of the 100-lap race, the winner was Rodney Combs followed by Larry Moore, Kevin Gundaker, Larry Phillips (all in the same lap) one lap down in the fifth position Mike Wallace of Arnold, Mo., Don Hester of Tupelo, Miss., Tom Helfrich of Haulstadt, Ind., Don Hoffman of Des Moines, Iowa, Steve Smith of New Oxford, Pa., and Brad Malcut of Stratsburg, Ohio. The 50-lap consolation race was run before the Bopp 100 was a wild one indeed. Bill Shaw of Robinson, Ill., started on the pole position and led for the first eight laps until Kenny Schrader of Baldwin, Mo., passed him and led until lap 13, when Schrader regained the lead.

A yellow flag came on lap 22 when Jim Scales of Chandler, Ind., and Ferris Collie of Lampe, Mo., got together in turn two. When the green flag came out Fisher passed Schrader for the lead and led until lap 31, when Schrader regained the lead from Fisher.

Another caution flag came out on lap 35 Bob Geizer of Salisbury, Mo., spun in turn one. When the green flag came out again David Speers of Lexington, Ky., hit Schrader in the tail end of his Mustang and Schrader broke the steering on his car.

David Speers at the time was running in second but on lap 38 Fisher passed Speers for the lead and held on for the win. Following Fisher at the finish were Buck Cadwell of Arnett, Okla., who passed Speers, Norm Kopp of Alton, Ill., Anthony Kirk of Mableton, Georgia and Jim Curry of Norman, Ind.

Gundaker sets new track record at T-C

GRANITE CITY — A total of 55 of the greatest late model stock car drivers were on hand Friday night at the Tri-City Speedway for the first annual Bopp 100 sanctioned by the NDRA (National Dirt Racing Association).

On May 24, Ron Fisher of Centralia, Ill., set a new track record with a 23.81 seconds on the half mile clay track. Larry Moore of Dayton, Ohio (current NDRA point leader) set a new track record the next week with a 23.76 seconds. Friday current point leader at Tri-City this year Kevin Gundaker of St. Louis broke Larry Moore's record with a 23.70 clocking Friday.

Joe Koriska of Omaha, Neb., the "Bounty Hunter" won the first 20 lap heat over Jerry Innon of Bruce, Miss., Billy Clanton of Riverdale, Georgia and Bill, Shaw of Robinson, Ill. Don Hoffman of Des Moines, Iowa won the second heat over Steve Smith of New Oxford, Pa., Don Hobbs of Bloomington, Ind., and Rick Strandberg of Springfield, Ill.

Rodney Combs of Loveland, Ohio won the third heat over Mike Wallace of Arnold, Mo., Doug McCammon of Palestine, Ill., and Jake Diemer of Columbus, Georgia. Larry Phillips of Springfield, Mo., won the fourth 20 lap qualifier heat over Don Hester of Tupelo, Miss., C.C. Corbin of E. Alton, Ill., and David Speers of Lexington, Ky.

Ken Essary of Galena, Mo., won the fifth heat over Dick Taylor of Springfield, Ill., Brad Malcut of Stratsburg, Ohio and Bob Pierce of Mechanicsburg, Ill., won the sixth and final heat over Terry Messenger of Robinson, Ill., Ira Bastin of Solsberry, Ind. and Don Chandler of Pontiac, Ill.

Pitch, Hit & Run here

GRANITE CITY — Baseball fever is spreading all over Granite City where boys and girls can be seen swinging bats, pitching and sliding. These youngsters are getting ready for the season's most exciting youth sports program, the "Pitch, Hit and Run" competition.

"Pitch, Hit and Run" is the official youth program of Major League Baseball and is open to boys and girls ages 8-13. Youngsters compete in the three key baseball skills; pitching for accuracy, hitting for distance and running base paths for speed. The program is sponsored by local Burger King restaurants in cooperation with the Presidents Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

More than 1,000 local competitions will take place across the United States. In Granite City, the local competition will be held on July 12 at 10 a.m. at Wilson Park Diamonds one, two and three. The Granite City Park District is the local competition director. Local winners will participate in the St. Louis District. National finalists will compete in Cooperstown, New York and receive their trophies during the 1980 World Series. Finalists and their parents will attend these two events courtesy of Burger King. Youngsters who want to enter the Pitch, Hit and Run competition may get details and entry forms at local Burger King restaurants and the Granite City Park District. Volunteers are needed to help with competition.
